Reducing energy consumption and costs is not only good for your bottom line, it is also becoming a code requirement in many places. A handful of cities have mandated the use of reflective roofing materials and have increased code requirements for insulation. Versico helps you to meet these requirements and improve your bottom line at the same time by offering innovative, proven solutions for your building.

Sustainable

The LiveRoof® premium green roof system provides the benefits of a rooftop garden in a modular, pre-planted form, which saves time and labor costs when compared to traditional roof garden systems. This innovative offering also helps reduce your energy bills by reducing rooftop temperatures and improving your building's overall energy efficiency.

Versico is able to meet all of your cool roof needs with any of our energy-efficient single-ply roofing systems including EPDM, TPO, PVC and roof gardens.

Innovation to reduce your energy bills and improve your building's efficiency.

Comprehensive

In today's time-starved society, quick and easy is imperative. Whether your building requires the latest in energy-efficient products or you want to make sure your budget is maximized through the use of time-saving innovations such as prefabricated accessories, Versico offers everything that is required to complete your project while eliminating the hassles that come from using multiple suppliers.
